

Date: October 1, 2004

CASEY DEL CASINO JOINS WALLER LANSDEN DORTCH & DAVIS

Nashville, Tennessee --Waller Lansden Dortch & Davis, PLLC, has named prominent entertainment attorney F. Casey Del Casino as a member of the firm.

With over 15 years of experience in copyright law, Del Casino will practice in the area of intellectual property. Previously, he was the proprietor of the Law Office of F. Casey Del Casino, P.C., a solo practice based in Nashville representing artists, record companies, songwriters, publishers, managers, producers and entertainment executives.

“Casey has comprehensive experience in the complex area of intellectual property law and will provide valuable counsel to our clients,” said Ralph Davis, chairman of Waller Lansden Dortch and Davis. “We are delighted to welcome him to our firm.”

Prior to establishing his own practice, Del Casino served as a partner in the Nashville office of the Sukin-Rush Law Group. Del Casino is a member of the American, Tennessee, New York and Nashville Bar Associations, The National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences, The Copyright Society of the U.S.A., The Copyright Society of the South, The Gospel Music Association, and Leadership Music. Del Casino received his Bachelor of Arts degree, magna cum laude, from Ithaca College in 1976 and his J.D. degree from Vanderbilt University School of Law in 1988. Prior to practicing law he was a music publisher in New York for nine years, working with such artists as ABBA, Quincy Jones, Todd Rundgren and Foghat, among others.

Headquartered in Nashville, with offices in Columbia, Tennessee, and Los Angeles, California, Waller Lansden Dortch & Davis is a professional limited liability company with over 170 attorneys. For more information please visit www.wallerlaw.com.

###